re-engraved in a superior style and brought up A CORRESPONDENT informs the Calcutta Englishman that there is good reason to believe the scheme for the proposed Jubilee Institute will be dropped altogether unless it is more strongly supported. This would be a most unfortunate termination of movement that seemed to promise so much for the good of the empire at large. And reluctant as we are to draw the conclusion. we connot but recognise that the 'paucity of support accorded to the undertaking, after all the talk there has been about Imperial Federation, goes to show that after all there must have been a large preponderance of froth in the latter; that the scattered memhers of the empire are still far from accepting the principle of each for all, and, like the Hon, P. Rygre, strongly object to see any. Arrivals and Departures of Mails and Parcel funds sent "out of the colony," notwith- for Adelaide, Sydney, and Melbourne. It was reasonable on the part of the meeting to decide that the memorial should be a local one, but the grounds of that decision were, we take it, that a local memorial would be preferable to participation in the national memorial, not that the latter was in itself objectionable. The tone of Mr. Evere's remarks, moreover, is in strong contrast with that adopted by the Chamber of Commerce, of which he is the Chairman. In July last the Secretary of cases dealt with yesterday, in one the prisoner the London-Chamber-of Commerce addressed the Hongkong Chamber on the subject of commercial museums, and having referred to the advantages resulting from such institutions in the industrial towns of various continental countries, requested the Hongkong Chamber to take the question of the | horities have also opened a new mint in response establishment of commercial museums into to the demand for cash.—The town of Nanconsideration. The reply of the Hongkung Chamber was as follows :-

Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, Hongkong, 5th November, 1886. DEAR SIE. - I am directed by the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to acknowledge the receipt of your circular letter dated the 29th July, treating of the proposal to establish Commercial Museums. In the opinion of the Committee, the proposal under consideration is one which should claim the support of all classes of the mercantile community. Besides bringing to the attention of consumers the products of each colony in the Empire, the movement in England will, it is to be hoped, also serve to draw the at-tention of those concerned to the particular classes of goods that are most suitable for the markets abroad (in China and other countries), so that the home manufacturers may be moreable to compete with their

The Committee are also glad to observe that, since the receipt of the letter under reply, advices are to ferent ports of China, Philippines, Siam, &c. hand advocating the scheme to found an Institute This larger scheme, while it will comprehend among its supporters all classes of the British communities throughout the Empire, must be viewed with especial pleasure by, and receive the warmest assistance of the mercantile hodies in every English colony.-I am,

H. U. JEFFRIES, Acting Secretary. Kenrio B. Murray, 1 sq., Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, London.

The Hon. P. Rynie, however, so far from thinking the scheme one which must "receive the warmest assistance of the mercantile bodies in every English colony" is strongly of opinion, judging from his remarks at the NACASARI Mesers. ENGLISH AND CHINESE. "DAILY P.E.ESS" OF FICE WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been A Large Assortment of New Satsums and compelled to coin to express the numerous obother Ware, Bronzes, Tea Services, Screens, &c. jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy. and in science generally, which the rapid advance 23 of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is . fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises CEYLON HAND-BOOK AND for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best THIS Volume, which forms a valuable Re- principle hitherto attained. The typography pertory of Information regarding Ceylon displays the success of an attempt to make the and a General Handbook thereto, is widely or Chinese and English type correspond in the size culated not only in the Island but throughout of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of he British Empire. space, achieving a clearness not previously. It includes a complete list of all the Coffee, attained, and dispensing with those vast margins. and vacant spaces which have heretefore characterized Chinese publications.

To the illustrate the vest scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration: useful General Information. It is indispensable | Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 to all intelligent residents, or parties interested | Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50:000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-
